

CITY AFFAIRS.

GALLIPOLIS, AUGUST 3, 1865.

We have received at the Ohio State Agency at Gallipolis during the past week:

Pay and bounty certificate for Rosetta A. Rife.

In the case of Stephen E. King, Co. I, 38th O. V. I., proof of death at the place as claimed, is wanted.

Benj. Clark of Morgan township, will find the effects of his deceased son, at this agency.

Discharged soldiers whose papers are in our hands, awaiting descriptive rolls, will please call and file applications for payment by 2d Auditor.

We are so instructed by the Adj. Gen. U. S. A. It is useless to wait longer on descriptive lists, as many of the officers are out of service, and could not furnish them even if they chose to do so. The Adj. Gen. furnishes them only to the 2d Auditor, after applications are filed. Each claimant must bring two witnesses to identify him as the soldier named in the discharge.

The following named soldiers will do well to call at once:

Geo. W. Archer, Co. G, 195th O. V. I.; Clark Steward, Co. G, 195th O. V. I.; Lewis Clark, Co. E, 66th O. V. I.; Thos. Williams, 9th Ind. Cav.; Martin Brown, Co. B, 173d O. V. I.; Peter Masse, Co. B, 172d O. V. I.; Marion Corwin, 8th O. S. I.; James M. Mill, Co. B, 173d O. V. I.; David Thompson, Co. M, 10th Ky. C.; Gabriel Stewart, Co. G, 51st O. V. I.; Joseph Roush, 18th Ohio Bat.; William Bradley, Co. B, 39th O. V. I.; Ampudia Earwood, Co. L, 7th O. V. I.; Elihu Germain, Co. H, 129th O. I.; C. P. Dalrymple, Co. G, 13th Va.; John H. Kelly, Co. E, 27th O. V. I.

We publish part of the Income tax list this week. The remainder will appear in our next number. We have endeavored to publish it correctly, but if any errors are discovered, particularly if over-estimated, we shall be pleased to hear of it. All too low, we are certain to hear from.

Miss Ellen Clem will find her brother Jasper Clem, awaiting her at the Sherman House, on Second street, where he will be glad to receive any information of the whereabouts of his sister.

A grey mare stolen from Mr. William Hicks, on Kanawha, was found by him in the stable of Holt & Viney in Gallipolis, having been purchased by Mr. Holt from an unknown party. She was at once given up and Holt loses his money. It is very unsafe to buy such property these times from strangers. Horse thieves are too plenty just now for honest men to prosper by such speculations.

Judge Nash comes in for about a column of personal abuse, in that high-toned model copperhead sheet the Gallipolis Dispatch. As the Judge is absent from town, of course there was nothing unfair in thus attacking him. When he returns, he will doubtless pay his respects to the Association in a fitting manner.

We are informed that by consent, the Senatorial Convention for this district, will meet at Gallipolis, on the 23d of August.

Mr. Ira W. Booten has placed on our table a copy of J. H. Brown's book, entitled "Four years in Secession," giving a thrilling account of his adventures in the prison hells of the South. It is one of the most interesting books of the kind now extant, and should be in the hands of every loyal family. Once read, no Union man would grudge the sum paid for it. Mr. Booten is one of our citizens, and a wounded soldier unable to procure a livelihood by labor—This of itself will recommend him to the favorable notice of the friends of the soldier, and we assure them he will give them the worth of their money. Subscribe, every body, and let your children learn how infamously wicked men can become, when they once raise their hands against the life of the nation.

Quite a lively time was witnessed at our wharf last week. The steamboats Lizzie C. Hamilton and Victress, are engaged in the trade between this port and Syracuse, and as usual a little spice of opposition connected with it.

On Friday, the Victress came in loaded with passengers, on a free trip from Syracuse and other points to Gallipolis and return. On Saturday, the Lizzie C. Hamilton, made her appearance not only loaded to the guards with people, but towing two barges also filled with passengers. She carried besides a fine band of music. It seemed as though all the towns and villages from Syracuse to this port, had emptied their population on these crafts—for the purpose of having a grand picnic excursion. They crowded our streets, crowded the groceries stores, shops in fact crowded into every place where there was any thing to eat, or sell. Capt. Hamilton probably made nothing by the trip. Our merchants and grocery men could well afford to pay for such a trip once a week. We thought so at the time and believe they could not more profitably invest $50, than by affording the citizens of Pomeroy, Middletown, Sheffield and Syracuse, a free ride, to visit Gallipolis and purchase their goods.

Mr. Lukens, the agent of Barrett's life of Lincoln, is now canvassing the county for subscriptions. Over 75 copies of the work have been subscribed for in Gallipolis.

This is the only work for which Mr. Lincoln himself furnished the material facts of his early life. During his Presidential career, Mr. Barrett was officially related to him, and enjoyed a personal intimacy with the President, that enables him to render the work full, complete and reliable. Farmers do you wish to place in the hands of your children, the life of a man, whose boyhood was passed in a rude log hut, and who learned to overcome all obstacles, by a steady perseverance in doing right? This is the book for the purpose. Let it be found on the table of every loyal family in the county.

Capt J. H. Hamilton, Co. B, 91st O. V. I., has placed on our table a little work, entitled "History of the 91st O. V. I." By A. H. Windsor, Chaplain. It gives a concise account of the marches, battles, &c., in which the regiment was engaged from its organization in 1862, until its final muster out in 1865. It also contains a complete roll of the regiment, and will be very useful for future reference. We hope to find room for some portions of the work. It is for sale at Oxbendon's Book Store.

Citizen alias late Captain C. C. Aleshire reads the citizens of Gallipolis generally, and the Editor of the Journal particularly, a certain lecture through the columns of the last Dispatch, whereat the Copperheads who edit it, wriggle and writhe in an ecstasy of delight, as though they had obtained not only a new convert to the Copperhead faith, but found a Union man ready to aid them in their work of love, personal defamation of the Editor of the Journal.

For our efforts in behalf of Capt. Aleshire during the fall of 1862, we never received any thanks, nor expected any. We had hoped a sense of propriety might have restrained his personal abuse. At present, we shall not reply. If we were his greatest personal enemy, we could wish him no worse fate, than to fall into the hands of the Copperhead leaders of Gallia county. Time makes all things even. We patiently await the progress of events, in full confidence that the day is not far distant, when he shall pray to be saved from his friends.

TOWN TALK.

That the crossing of Second and State streets, is calculated to produce a violation of the third commandment.

That the pond between 2d and Front streets in the upper end of town, is more profitable to physicians than to the tax payers.

That economy in the administration of public affairs, is a rare virtue.

That the spirit of enterprise manifested by the city council, is worthy of admiration.

That those who fear they have attempted more than they can successfully achieve, are likely to be disappointed, unless winter should set in before January, 1866.

That Bailey and Hayward's soda fountain is "a mighty nice thing" for young folks.

That Moch's wine and Kuhn's ale are "ditto," for old folks.

That the "mite societies" of the several churches are good institutions for the "mites" but "only so so" for the "mitors."

And that on the whole, Gallipolis, as a city of the second class is, — what do you say reader?

Come to Portsmouth.

Road Notice.

A Petition will be presented to the County Commissioners of Gallia county at their September session A. D. 1865, praying for an alteration in two county roads, one the old Burlington road leading from Gallipolis to the county seat, and the other the old Burlington road to commence in the old Burlington road near William Huroon's in Harrison township, to intersect a county road leading from Guyard to Patriot at John H. Clark's on Sand-fork, and alteration of the old Burlington road to commence in the old Burlington road near Thornton Drummond's dwelling-house, at the foot of the hill, south of said Drummond's house, thence up a creek, thence up said branch to the forks of said branch, thence up the west-side of the middle prong of said branch, to the top of the ridge in a low gap at a white oak tree, thence south east direction to intersect said Burlington road south of John Bickel's dwelling-house at a small chestnut tree. The alteration in the county road leading from said William Huroon to the county seat, to commence at the branch south-west of Thornton Drummond's dwelling-house, thence up said branch to the top of the ridge in a low gap to a large white oak tree, thence a south-west direction through the lands of Hiram Houska, John Bickel and Jacob Clark, to intersect the county road leading from Guyard to Patriot at Brown's Mill on Sandfork.
